

Market Notice

Date: 29 September 2022

Notice Number: IPSX2022/08

Addition of GBX as a Trading Currency

IPsx now supports the use of GBX as a trading currency. When admitting their shares to trading on IPSX, Issuers are therefore able to choose whether their shares are traded in either GBP or GBX. This applies to shares admitted to trading on IPSX Prime and both IPSX Wholesale models.

Guide for Trading Members

IPsx has amended its Guide for Trading Members to incorporate the addition of GBX as a trading currency.

The following changes have also been made to the Guide:

- IPSX has created a Trading Parameters spreadsheet, which summarizes the reference data published by the FCA for each Issuer whose securities are traded on IPSX. Accordingly, the section in the Guide on Tick Size has been amended to reflect the creation of this spreadsheet.
- Other minor amendments have been made to improve clarity.

The changes described in this Market Notice will take effect immediately.

The revised Guide for Trading Members and the Trading Parameters spreadsheet can be found here:
